

Fresh Hopes for the Baot

Suffrage Sure to Pass Senate Now, Mrs. Catt Declares

Women Democrats Will Urge Wilson to Push It to Save Party's Face

(Special Dispatch to The Tribune)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—On the same day that the National Woman's Party, the "militants," held the opening demonstration in its full campaign against Democratic candidates for the Senate from suffrage states, President Wilson will give an audience to a delegation of Southern and Western Democratic women in regard to the Federal suffrage amendment. The women of the Democratic party will meet the President at 2 o'clock next Monday, and the National Woman's Party will hold its protest meeting in Lafayette Park, across from the White House, at 5 o'clock.

The interview with the President was arranged several days ago through the National American Woman Suffrage Association, of which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt is president.

"Before the recess in the Senate," said Mrs. Catt today, "several Senators who have been for some time opposed to the Federal amendment, announced their intention of getting into touch with their constituents during the recess. They are now assured of the necessary backing to put the measure through. We believe that the amendment will be passed at an early date with not merely a two-thirds vote, but with several additional votes."

"We are gratified to learn that they take advantage of the recess to consult the people of their states, and to return to the Senate with changed minds. We are now assured of the necessary backing to put the measure through. We believe that the amendment will be passed at an early date with not merely a two-thirds vote, but with several additional votes."

This change in the Senatorial situation brings women of the Democratic party to urge that the measure be pushed as a Democratic measure. They believe that in some states the contest in the fall elections will be extremely close, and that Democratic or Republican supremacy in Congress may rest upon the party attitude toward the Federal amendment.

In that case the Republican women will not hesitate to call attention to the fact that Republicans in the Senate have gone on record in a Republican caucus as ready and anxious for an early vote. The Republican women also call attention to the fact that more than two-thirds of the Republican Senators are in favor of the amendment.

Ollie James's Successor On Side of Suffragists

George Brown Martin is the new Kentucky Senator who has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Ollie M. James. Although he succeeds a strong opponent of suffrage, Senator Martin is said to be a staunch supporter of the Federal suffrage amendment.

1,442,000 English Women Replace Men

FIGURES from the "British Labor Gazette" show the extent of the increase in employment of girls and women in Great Britain outside of domestic service. In January, 1918, 4,741,000 women and girls were employed, as against 3,275,000 in July, 1914. A total of 1,442,000 is given on the direct replacement of men by women.

U. S. Picks Woman To Put War News Before Foreigners

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—To a woman, Miss Josephine Roche, has been entrusted the task of putting official war information and propaganda before the foreign press in this country. She is at the head of this work which is a department of the Committee on Public Information.

In her home state, Colorado, she was the first spokeswoman. With the addition of a Spanish branch started to-day by Miss Roche, there are nine language bureaus in operation in the department. Miss Roche expresses great enthusiasm over the pro-American spirit, as it is developing among America's alien population.

"There are national alliances in nearly every community," said Miss Roche, "and all that I have to do is send instructions to these organizations. The enthusiasm with which these foreign citizens throw themselves into the Liberty Loan, the war savings stamps drive, the Red Cross appeals, and all others to help in winning the war is enough to make some Americans blush. Their loyalty and patriotism are in a class with that of the Americans of Revolutionary War days."

Employers Urged To Engage Women In All Departments

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—An appeal to all women in the United States, including "women who have never earned a dollar and will never need to," came forward more generally and take place for the vacancies left by the outgoing of husbands, sons, brothers and friends. And the sooner they begin to do so the more smoothly will the machinery of the nation swing into place for the remainder of the war.

"Victory 'over there' means work 'over here,' and 'do your all. Do not be content with your bit," are features of the appeal.

Women Chosen as Leaders by Both Old Parties in City

Republicans Name Miss H. V. Boswell as County Committee Officer

Miss Helen Varick Boswell was chosen vice-president of the Republican County Committee last night at a meeting held in Bryant Hall. Miss Boswell is chairman of the women's division of the committee.

Only two real fights developed in the election of women leaders in the Democratic ranks in Brooklyn last night. There were contests in five districts, but the promised fights in three of these simmered down to practically nothing.

In the 8th Assembly district, the regulars, so called, under the male leadership of Charles M. Byrne, recently defeated by "Paddy" Diamond for State Committee member, elected Mrs. Margaret White as the woman leader. This was D. Mrs. Alice Joyce; 13th A. D. Mrs. Thomas J. Carroll; 18th A. D. Mrs. Saline McCreary Minister; 19th A. D. Mrs. Paul Katske; 20th A. D. Mrs. Anne Spencer; 21st A. D. Mrs. Charles O'Malley; 22d A. D. Mrs. Gertrude S. Vaughn; and 23d A. D. Miss Laura Mulcaire.

The following are the leaders chosen in the districts where there was no contest: First Assembly District, Mrs. Margaret Gilroy and Mrs. Margaret Walters; 2d A. D. Miss Lillian Murphy; 3d A. D. Miss Annie Paterson; 4th A. D. Mrs. Laura Reigelmann; 5th A. D. Mrs. Margaret Grech; 6th A. D. Mrs. Carrie D'Oerick; 9th A. D. Mrs. John R. Maher; 10th A. D. Mrs. Minnie J. Leidy; 11th A. D. Mrs. Alice Joyce; 12th A. D. Miss Elizabeth Scherban; 14th A. D. Mrs. Thomas J. Carroll; 18th A. D. Mrs. Saline McCreary Minister; 19th A. D. Mrs. Paul Katske; 20th A. D. Mrs. Anne Spencer; 21st A. D. Mrs. Charles O'Malley; 22d A. D. Mrs. Gertrude S. Vaughn; and 23d A. D. Miss Laura Mulcaire.

Volunteers Sought For Suffrage Parade

"The government has never allowed women to say they are denied at home the liberty which it is sending men across the ocean to defend," said Lucy Burns, of the National Woman's Party, who addressed a small meeting at People's House, 7 East Fifth Street, last night.

Miss Burns is the proud survivor of seven jail sentences, which she served in the interest of the cause. A Brooklyn girl and a graduate of Vassar College, she studied in Edinburgh and shared Mrs. Pankhurst's work in England. She was the first editor of "The Suffragist," the official organ of the National Woman's Party.

The meeting last night was for the purpose of recruiting volunteers for the demonstration to be held Monday at the foot of the Lafayette Statue in Washington. A special train bearing the participants will leave for the Pennsylvania Station to-morrow night.

Miss Burns told the story of the recent demonstrations in Washington. "Our trial was ludicrous," she said, "and the place where we were imprisoned, an infernal dungeon. Some five years ago it had been abandoned as an improper place to hold prisoners."

Woman Takes Charge Of U. S. Stock Farm

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Answering questions from farmers and ranch owners as to the best winter feeding of their stock is the work of Miss Edith Curtis, the first woman to receive a degree in animal husbandry from the Iowa State College of Agriculture. Her official title in the Department of Agriculture, where she is a woman pioneer also, is scientific assistant in beef cattle investigation of the Bureau of Animal Industry.

Miss Curtis will have oversight of the experimental farm run in the department at Beltsville, Md., this winter, where experiments are made in feeding four groups of ten steers each. Velvet beans, a new food for stock, will be tried, and Miss Curtis will keep records of the farm and the feeding of its animals and send them out to farmers next year.

Y. M. C. A. Staff Flees Moscow; Will Return

A cable message received yesterday by the National Young Men's Christian Association, says that association workers whose posts in Petrograd had to be shifted to Moscow are waiting in Stockholm for an opportunity to return to Russia by the northern route. The message, which was from Elizabeth Boies, director of the work in Russia, and Marcia Dunham, secretary, follows:

"Political situation required our departure. We expect to return to Russia by northern route. Elizabeth Boies, Cincinnati; Marcia Dunham, New York City; Elizabeth Dickinson, Minneapolis; Helen Ogden, New Jersey; Clara Taylor, Taylorville, Ill.; Muriel Heap, Grand Haven, Mich.; and Katherine Childs, Sherman, N. Y., are temporarily in Stockholm.

"Petrograd work is continuing. Clara Taylor's industrial survey in Moscow completed and association work there can be resumed at earliest moment. Work is being requested in other cities. There are great opportunities on the new front.

"What and how many new secretaries are ready to come? What association supplies and personnel are on way now?"

American Women Cheer U. S. Wounded

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—More than 5,000 American soldiers in hospitals in England have received personal calls from women of the care committee of the American Red Cross in the last few weeks. In every instance efforts were made to keep the men in touch with their families and friends. Service which, reports to headquarters here indicated, convinced the sick and wounded that England was very much like home.

Mrs. Robert Peet Skinner, wife of the American Consul General at London, directs the activities of the committee, which has branch organizations in twenty cities.

Koenig Is Again Elected President By Republicans

County Committee Also Honors Two Women With Offices

The Republican County Committee, at its reorganization meeting in Bryant Hall last night, unanimously re-elected Samuel S. Koenig president, elected Charles E. Heydt, first vice-chairman, Miss Helen Varick Boswell second vice-chairman, Major Ogden L. Mills treasurer, Clarence H. Fay secretary and Mrs. Jessie L. Higgins assistant secretary.

"It matters not whether men high in authority in Washington try to interfere in our state election by writing letters in behalf of the Democratic candidate for Governor or not, the people of the State of New York will triumphantly elect Governor Whitman, and definitely and irrevocably adjourn politics and substitute patriotism," said President Koenig, is accepting his reelection for the eighth time. He thanked the Tammany candidate for Congress, in nominating Mr. Koenig, said that if he was elected to Congress the first thing he would do would be to join with other Republicans in retiring Charles F. Smith from the chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee.

Referring to the political situation in this state, Mr. Tanner said: "Despite the agreeable personal qualities of Mr. Smith, the Democrats cannot conceal the fact that for years Alfred E. Smith has been the representative at Albany of Tammany Hall."

Chairman Koenig said that the duty of the hour was the winning of the war, and winning it as speedily as possible.

"We point with pride," said he, "to the splendid record of Governor Charles S. Whitman and his associates in control of the state administration for the last four years. They put the man power of the State of New York behind the Administration at Washington. Governor Whitman did this without regard to political considerations. He did it as a patriot."

Collin H. Woodward nominated Miss Boswell as second vice-chairman amid great applause, and William Chivers nominated Major Ogden L. Mills as treasurer. Edward Montgomery, of the 10th Assembly District, was continued as sergeant-at-arms.

To Take Part in Loan Drive

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia, was the last speaker. Formal resolutions endorsing the Republican state ticket were unanimously adopted.

By resolution the county committee constituted its executive committee a Liberty Loan committee to cooperate with other organizations and committees in the flotation of the fourth Liberty Loan and to supervise the work of the various Assembly district committees, which were constituted in control of the state administration for the last four years. They put the man power of the State of New York behind the Administration at Washington. Governor Whitman did this without regard to political considerations. He did it as a patriot."

Upstate to Elect Smith as Governor, Is Harris's Opinion

Edwin S. Harris, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, after a trip up the state, covering Syracuse and Buffalo, said yesterday, on his return, that Alfred E. Smith, Democratic candidate for Governor, would be elected Governor.

"I feel sure," he believed that Smith will beat Whitman," said Harris last night, "is that the people generally up the state seem to have become tired of Whitman. Besides, the Wilson Administration, under the leadership of Mr. Smith in his candidacy. The people I talked with think that Governor Whitman stands for nothing but political expediency."

"There are plenty of people around the state who are convinced the Governor does not really sympathize with the temperance movement, but is using it as a political expedient. I talked with a number of prominent labor men, and I find that the labor movement, on account of the fair treatment accorded organized labor by the Wilson Administration, will vote the entire Democratic ticket."

Chairman Harris is going to form a committee for the purpose of getting the business community, under the leadership of Mr. Smith, to support the campaign for Governor. He will be assisted by George Sherman, of Watertown; Oliver Cabana, Jr., of Erie County, for Governor; and George E. Smith, president of the First National Bank of Poughkeepsie; ex-Congressman E. G. Underhill, of Corning; Mayor Rosly M. Cox, of Middletown; Mrs. John W. Cameron, of Buffalo; and Mrs. Hildreth, of Syracuse, former president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The campaign for the central and upper part of the state will be run from the Syracuse headquarters, where Chairman Harris will spend the greater part of his time. The campaign in this city will be left largely to Tammany Hall.

Asked about the anti-Tammany sentiment among the upstate Democrats, Mr. Harris said: "I do not think there is any such sentiment now that Mr. Smith is the candidate. Mr. Osborne is a high-minded man, with a supposedly large following up the state. He spent a good deal of time in money in trying to rally the upstate Democrats to a standard, but was unable to make much of an impression, because Alfred E. Smith was the choice of the Democratic State Convention and the Democratic masses."

The Cleveland Democracy met last night at its Harlem headquarters and elected Alfred E. Smith for Governor and the entire Democratic ticket.

Women Needed in Plants

So great has become the need for women workers at manufacturing plants in the Long Island City section which are making supplies for the American army that it was decided to inaugurate a special recruiting campaign, under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Neustadt, supervisor of the Women's Branch of the United States Employment Bureau in Queens.

Security League Says Creel Was Careless

One more chapter to the controversy now raging between the National Security League and George Creel, chairman of the Committee on Public Information, over the merits and demerits of a book called "Two Thousand Questions and Answers About the War" was added yesterday, when the league came forward with a reply to a defense of Mr. Creel, made public the day before. As a summation to its reply the league charged Mr. Creel with gross carelessness, in that he, by his own admission, wrote a laudatory introduction to a book which he had read in only a superficial manner.

The league's attitude in the matter was set forth in a letter sent by Colonel Charles E. Lydicker, its president, and addressed to Mr. Creel personally. The final paragraph of the letter follows:

"Your explanation of your participation in the matter we desire to have made as fully as the report of the committee, and therefore we are indebted to you for your letter. But one point in your letter, which is the sting at the end, needs comment."

"You are mistaken in believing that professor Van Tyne has acted for the purpose of notoriety. An educator and author of note, his name and reputation should be so well known to a man of your position that you would not descend to such a defense of what is, by your own admission, shown to be putting the best construction upon it, gross carelessness."

Pay Envelopes Will Contain W. S. S. Plea

The National War Savings Committee, believing in simple, direct tactics, will distribute appeals to join War Savings Societies to-day in the pay envelopes of more than 500,000 men and women in this city.

Abraham & Straus, the Brooklyn department store, will distribute 25,000 of the leaflets. Other concerns which will distribute the leaflets are: The National War Savings Committee, United Title and Trust Company, United States Reclaiming Company, Title Guarantee and Trust Company, B. T. Fusion Leaders All to Go Free in 'Slush Fund' Case

Court Holds Indictment of Childs Illegal—Sulzer and Others Profit

Justice Finch sustained yesterday a writ of habeas corpus sworn out by William Hamon Childs, manager of the Fusion campaign of 1917, and discharged him under the three indictments against him because of his alleged violation of the corrupt practices act.

Although they were not petitioners, the same decision will release ex-Governor Sulzer, former Senator Josiah T. Newcomb and former Coroner Timothy Healy, similarly indicted.

Justice Finch held that Mr. Childs did not commit an indictable offense, and that the jury that indicted him acted without jurisdiction.

Mr. Childs was charged with failure to set forth fully in his report all the expenditures which the Fusion Campaign Committee had made in the campaign of 1917, and that in view of the act under which the relator was indicted gave the court power to compel Mr. Childs to file a complete statement within ten days.

If the defendant wilfully refuses, the court may impose a fine of $1,000 or a prison sentence of not more than one year.

When Mr. Childs and the other defendants appeared in court on May 8 to plead they were confronted by two superseding indictments. After hearing arguments by Mr. Stanchfield, the defendant's attorney, the Appellate Division on July 11 granted a writ of prohibition. This was given on the ground that the extraordinary term of the Supreme Court called to try the defendants would be powerless because it was said its session had not been properly advertised in the newspapers.

Immediately following this decision Mr. Stanchfield obtained a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Mr. Childs. In his decision Justice Finch said: "The corrupt practices act provides that the court may direct a man to file a complete report, and in case of his failure the court may grant a writ of prohibition. This was given on the ground that the extraordinary term of the Supreme Court called to try the defendants would be powerless because it was said its session had not been properly advertised in the newspapers."

He act provides, however, a complete remedy in the form of summary proceedings. No attempt was made to proceed against him in accordance with this provision of the act, but he was indicted.

"If the court has done nothing for which he is indictable, and even if the facts alleged were true, as a matter of law, he would be entitled to summary proceedings."

"Gloriana," a musical play, with Eleanor Painter in the leading role, opened at Atlantic City last night. It is scheduled to arrive here early in October. The book is by Catherine Crisheim Cushing and the score is by Rudolf Friml.

At the first Sunday night concert at the new Central Theatre to-morrow will appear Al Jolson, Frank Fay, Fred and Adele Astaire, Fanny and Norman, George M. Rosener, Morin Sisters, Rita Lee, The Ruskies, Ma Belle and Mathew, Royal Gasoline and Brown and King.

A. H. Wood's production, "The Big Chance," opened in New Haven last night. In the cast are Clara Joel, Cyril Keightley, William E. Meehan, Katharine Harris Barrymore and Annie MacK. The play is by Grant Morris.

"Gasless" Sundays to End With This Month

Fuel Administration Considers Fuel Saving on Other Petroleum Products

(Special Dispatch to The Tribune)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The fuel administration is considering the promulgation of new restrictions on the use of petroleum products to supplement the "gasless Sunday" order. It is understood that Mark L. Requa, head of the oil division, has recommended to Fuel Administrator Garfield that a prohibition be placed on the use of gasoline for both automobile and motor boat racing. Rigid conservation of kerosene, with the discontinuance of its use for cleaning and other non-essential uses, has also been urged upon Dr. Garfield. These additional petroleum saving measures are under consideration and action on them is expected within the next few days.

Suspension of the Sunday restriction on the use of gasoline may be ordered by Dr. Garfield, officials of the Fuel Administration state, within the next two weeks. It is not considered likely that it will be necessary to continue the restriction in operation after the end of the present month.

In the Senate Finance Committee this morning Senator Penrose stated that the gasless Sunday policy of the fuel administration had caused the loss of an entire day's production of coal for each Sunday and that in view of that fact he would offer a resolution requesting officials of the fuel administration to appear before the committee and explain their course.

The Senator explained that in these prosperous times about half the coal miners own automobiles in which they take their Sunday outings. Being able now to use their cars on Sunday, they knock off Saturday afternoon to motor to their outing places and return Monday morning. The Senator thought it was curious that the government should be impeding production on the one hand and resorting to unusual methods of economizing on the other hand.

Miss Putnam to Wed To-day
Miss Dorothy Putnam, daughter of Mrs. Frederick H. Putnam, of Brooklyn, Mass., will be married to-day in the Union Church, Hayes, Mass., to Lieutenant Harold D. Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Hayes & Co. The bride is a sister of Lieutenant David E. Putnam, an American ace. Lieutenant Hayes returned from France recently, having come from the trenches to instruct troops in this country.

Miss Underhill's Engagement To Lieut. Olyphant Broken
Announcement has been made of the breaking of the engagement of Miss Helen Oakley Underhill, second daughter of Frederic Edgar Underhill, of 179 West Seventy-sixth Street, and Lieutenant Donald Olyphant, son of Robert Olyphant, his first wife, and a grandson of the late Robert Morris Olyphant.

Lieutenant Olyphant is in the aviation section of the Signal Corps, U. S. A. He sailed for France for Army duty and the engagement was announced late that month.

Duke Leopold of Anhalt Is Dead, Says Dispatch
AMSTERDAM, Sept. 13.—Duke Leopold of Anhalt died yesterday at Dessau, capital of the Duchy of Anhalt, according to a dispatch received here. Leopold, succeeded by his brother, Duke Frederick II, upon the latter's death in April of this year.

There was a high mass of requiem yesterday afternoon for Anna Held in St. Patrick's Cathedral. The service was arranged, it was explained, because at the time of the actress's death it was not generally known that she died in the Catholic faith. About 500 attended the mass.

The celebrant was the Rev. William B. Martin, assistant rector of the cathedral. The Rev. Patrick Kelly was deacon. Bernard J. Corcoran, sub-deacon, and the Rev. Henry F. Hammer master of ceremonies.
